Colorado Rapids on Thursday announced the introduction of their new coaching staff led by former Seattle Sounders General Manager Adrian Hanauer. The club added head coach Pablo Mastroeni, assistant coaches and technical staff members Kevin Spangler, Pete Vagenas, Rodrigo Lopez, Igor Juliao, Chris Blanco, Chris Butler, and Carlos Borja. Mastroeni was named the head coach on July 1, 2018. “I’m excited to get to work,” Mastroeni said. “This is a new challenge and a new area. We have some quality leaders on this staff and I’m looking forward to learning from them. I’m excited to work on the philosophy and culture that we’ve shared over the past two years with our players, building on what they’ve bought into during the preseason. We have some tremendous structure and a fantastic group of talented people to work with. This is a great opportunity for myself and the club to continue to develop as a club. I look forward to working with all of our players and staff to bring a championship to Colorado.” Mastroeni spent the past two years with the Sounders as the club’s assistant general manager and team leader. During his time in Seattle, he helped guide the club to a Supporters’ Shield (2016), MLS Cup Championship (2017) and U.S. Open Cup Final (2017). Prior to joining the Sounders, Mastroeni spent the 2011 through 2015 seasons with the Rapids, serving as the club’s player-coach and assisting head coach. The Rapids named Mastroeni head coach on Nov. 7, 2012, and earned the All-Star Coaching Achievement Award for 2012 MLS Coach of the Year. “The biggest and best thing that made me want to come to Colorado was the organization and people that I met in Adrian Hanauer, Pádraig Smith and Conor Casey. I have the utmost respect for them all,” Mastroeni said. “I’m honored to work with the entire staff and look forward to adding more great leaders on this staff.” The Rapids also named former Rapids Head Coach Gary Smith as the team’s defensive coach, adding former Rapids General Manager Paul Bravo as the club’s fitness coach. "I’m looking forward to working with Pablo and the entire staff this year,” Smith said. “P

You can save the photos from your camera, import photos from your computer, or import them into Photoshop from online galleries. If you want to save the photos you take on your phone, I recommend importing them from your camera roll directly. 1. Import Photos If you have a library on your camera roll, you can import photos from there into Photoshop. 1) Open your camera roll. You should see a collection of all the photos you've taken in the last few months. 2) Open the photo you want to import into Photoshop. 3) Select the Import option in the toolbar. 4) Choose Entire Photo from the file-menu. You can also choose one specific photo. 5) If you want to view the photo before importing, click on the image in the Import dialog box. 6) Click OK. Photoshop will open the photo in a new window. 7) Click Done on the import screen. Photoshop will then ask if you want to close the file. You can also import photos from your computer. 1) Open your desktop. 2) Click the Import tool. 3) Choose the JPEG option. 4) Save the file in a folder where you can easily find it (desktop, etc.). 5) Open Photoshop and click Open. 6) Choose File > Open. 7) Navigate to the folder where the file is saved. 8) Open the file. 9) Click OK to import the photos
